DEFINITION...

Wrought iron was originally the type of steel used by blacksmiths and now is the finished piece itself.

The description “wrought iron” now applies to just about anything that is made out of metal. Unfortunately that includes products that are of tubular construction and mass produced.

Wrought iron is in reality steel that has been individually manipulated through heating, hammering, bending and welding, often with curls used as the most popular ornament.

SO WHAT’S THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN WROUGHT AND CAST?

Wrought iron is steel that has been bent, not cast.

Cast iron is molten iron that has been poured into a mold to produce a desired ornament. Mass-produced, it often uses vines, flowers, leaves, and intricate designs. A seam shows where the two halves of the mold are joined together. Most finials [ornamental spear tops etc. used in fence posts and curtain rod ends] are also cast.

CHOOSING BETWEEN WROUGHT AND CAST...

This is a matter of personal taste and appreciation. If you do not mind mass-produced items and like ornate designs, cast iron may be the choice to make. If you prefer a unique, individually made piece, wrought iron may be what you’re looking for. There is always the option of combining the two for an interesting piece just as is used in old fashioned fencing or garden trellis.

WILL IT RUST?

Most of our pieces are sealed with a rust-inhibitive finish allowing it to be used indoors or out; however, our clear sealant may eventually allow rusting to occur. Our Natural finish is just that - natural steel and we guarantee that it will rust.

IS THERE ANY MAINTENANCE?

Iron is a natural, durable and recyclable material, able to withstand knocks, spills and everyday accidents. Our finish, like any other paint, will withstand reasonable amounts of wear... should a nick or scratch occur, gently rub area with fine sand paper or steel wool and lightly apply a matching paint, clear sealant or protective coating of mineral oil.

The same technique can apply to dealing with rust, should it occur.

WHAT GOES WITH WROUGHT IRON?

You may think we’re biased... but we believe anything. Iron can be combined with any wood, glass, fabric or colour.

The choice of fabric and pattern merely depend on the styling of the piece... whether its lines are clean or ornate. The same holds true of choosing glass, wood, marble, granite or tile for table tops or rack shelving.

No matter what style a home is, wrought iron can complement its décor.

Based on a 17th century candle...

When a suitor came courting, the visit's length was determined by how much of the candle was wound up above the coil to burn. Since most candles were hand crafted at home, Mother had the ability to make some candles burn faster than others!

A standard taper candle will fit inside the coil. We do, however, recommend using a high quality dripless candle.

Please remember to burn your candle turned above the coil.

Suitor not required!

YES, we do custom work!

We can customize one of our own products for you or we can custom produce for you an idea you have... perhaps we could make a version of something you can no longer find.

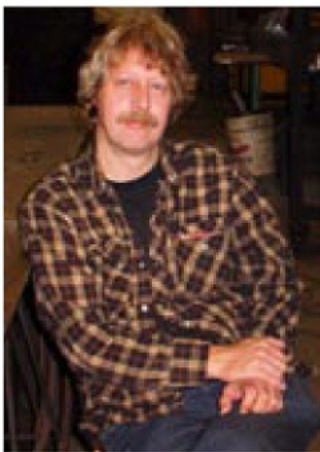

We'll give you an estimate of the cost and see what we can do for you!

PRODUCTS we customize regularly are;

Arbours, obelisks, trellises, gates, planter boxes, candelabra, wine racks, pot racks, CD and DVD racks... WELL, just about anything in our catalogue can be customized... we'll let you know if it can't be done. For more ideas on what we can offer, check out our website at www.hallmanironworks.on.ca. Email us at hallman@wroughtiron.on.ca

We can work from a doodle, a picture or clipping... we've even worked off a television commercial!

Hi! I am Rick Hallman. I am the owner and operator of Hallman Ironworks. Charity, the oldest of my two adult children, works with me. I am so proud of her. When I started this business back in 1991 I had no idea it would become a family business.

I am lead welder in our shop and produce the wrought iron in this catalogue and a lot more you may never see. To date our product line has gone well over 1,000 pieces, and we are producing the largest line of wrought iron in Canada!

I have the last word here at work and I guarantee to give you a product that is both attractive, sturdy and that will last for generations to come. You have my word on it.

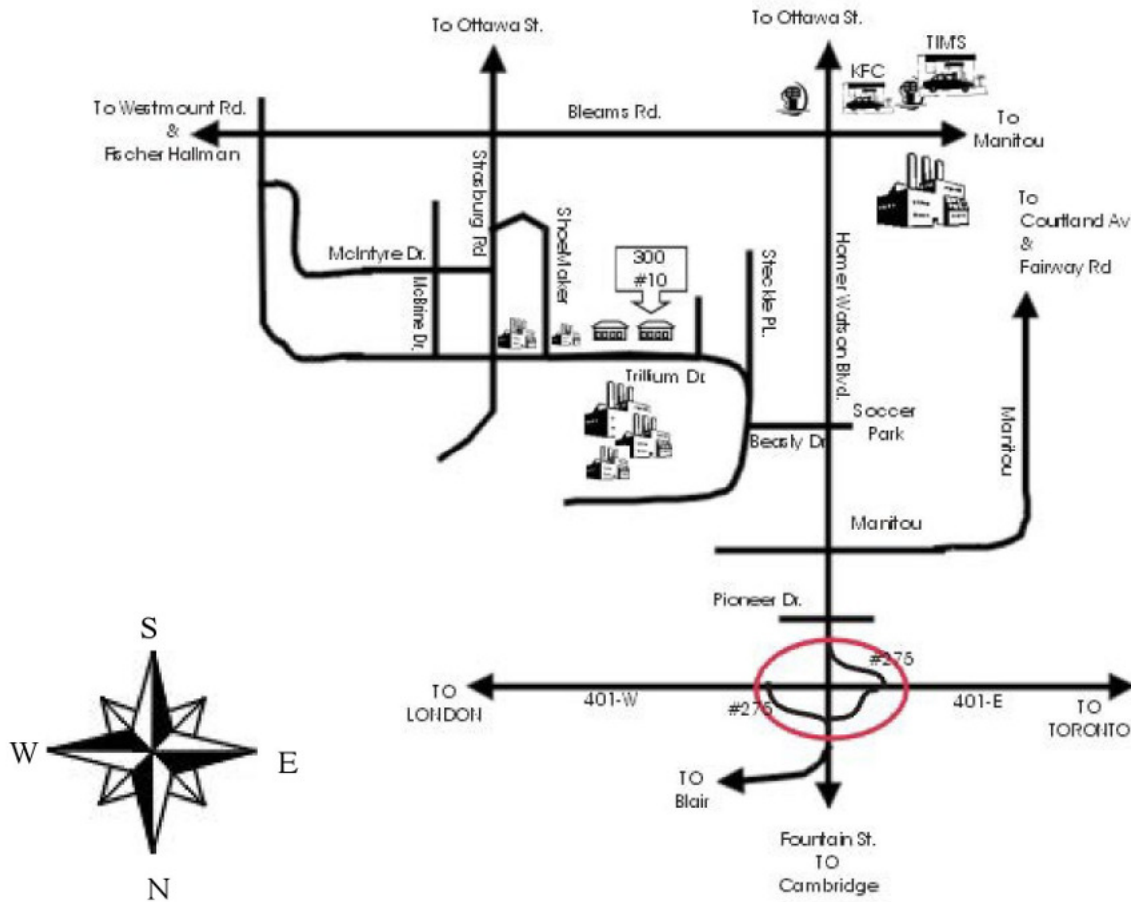

Hi! I am Charity Warner. I am usually the voice you will hear when you call. I am also my Dad's right hand. This is good considering he is left handed.

I do everything from design, welding, finishing the products, quality control and shipping the finished products out. I do a lot of the computer work too, which includes the book keeping. I love learning new things. I hope to learn web design as well so I can help with more. So, as you can see, I have a lot of hats to juggle!

I look forward to hearing from you, and I would love to hear what you think of our product line and any ideas you may have for those you can't find anywhere. We love a challenge!

Call, email or fax I will get right back to you!

Please follow these directions... You are at the bottom of the map.

Take the 401 cut off to Kitchener/ Cambridge #275 - Homer Watson/ Fountain St.

Turn onto Homer Watson... Into Kitchener, not Cambridge!

Follow Homer Watson... Cross over Manitou and turn left at the next intersection [light] which is Beasley Dr.

Go to the STOP sign and turn right onto Trillium Drive - follow around the bend... we are on the right, in a small, grey brick industrial strip mall. Watch for our sign over our windows!
